Art Unit: 2141

1. Claims 1-11 are presented for examination.
2. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.
3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. § 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Art Unit: 2141

4. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 102(e) as being anticipated by Hakim patent no. 6,760,748.

5. As to claim 1, Hakim teaches the invention as claimed, including a server system comprising a server apparatus and one or more terminal apparatuses electrically connected to the server apparatus through a transmission line, wherein:

the one or more terminal apparatuses each include one or more input devices (col. 6 lines 11-38; col. 14 lines 25-34); and the server apparatus implements an operating system and an application program, the server apparatus including input information recognition means for recognizing an input information signal which is output from each of the one or more input devices and input to the server apparatus, and the server apparatus executing the operating system and the application program based on the input information signal (col. 6 lines 11-38; col. 14 lines 25-59).

6. As to claims 2-3, Hakim teaches each of the one or more terminal apparatuses is connected to at least one of one or more image display devices and one or more output devices; and the server apparatus includes at least one of image display data generation means, for generating image display data which is input to the one or more image display devices based on the input information signal, and output control data generation means, for generating an output control signal which is input to the one or more output devices based on the input information signal; and the one or more terminal apparatuses and the server apparatus each include communication means which uses a same communication method to realize mutual communication between the at least one terminal apparatus and the server apparatus (col. 6 lines 11-38; col. 14 line 25 - col. 15 line 12; col. 34 line 4 - col. 35 line 17).

7. As to claim 4, Hakim teaches the one or more terminal apparatuses are arranged in a tree configuration such that the terminal apparatuses are electrically connected to each other; and the one or more terminal apparatuses function as a hub for the input device and the output device included in the at least one terminal apparatus (col. 14 lines 25-34).

8. As to claim 5, Hakim: the server apparatus recognizes the terminal apparatus in connection with all of the one or more input devices and/or the one or more output devices attached to the terminal apparatus; and the input information signal is reflected in the application program executed on the server apparatus (col. 14 lines 25-58).

9. As to claim 6, Hakim: the one or more terminal apparatuses each have a first authentication number; the input device and the output device each have a second authentication number; and the server apparatus recognizes the first authentication number and each of the second authentication numbers for all of the input devices and/or the output devices attached to the terminal apparatus in connection with each other, and executes the application program in association with the first and second authentication numbers.(col. 13 lines 12-46; col. 29 lines 8-31).

10. Claims 7-11 have similar limitations as claims 1-6; therefore, they are rejected under the same rationale.
